REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance. The closest prior art O'Brien U.S. Pat. No. 6,658,571 discloses a security framework that includes a security master that coordinates installation and removal of kernel-based security modules and that provides a means for managing there modules.

JP410187408A, White Christopher et al discloses a method for processing audio information through a client processing system connectable through a network to a server processing system and connectable to an audio output device.

However, neither O'Brien nor White singularly or in combination discloses the recited feature:

As per claims 25-29, 40 " downloading content from the source to the local computer system presenting the downloaded content within a browser window of the web browser and as determined by the source in accordance with the authorization information, disabling at the local computer system a disallowed user function that affects the downloaded content when the downloaded content is within the browser window".

As per claims 62, 78, 95, 98, 101, 104, 107 and 109 " presenting protected content within the browser window client executing on the client digital processing system, and as determined by the server digital processing system in accordance with the authorization information, disabling at the client digital processing system disallowed user functions when the protected content is in the browser window, wherein the disallowed user function comprises a user function which, when allowed, provides for non-ephemeral reproduction of the protected content".
